Senior Client Lead – £70-£80k +£35k bonus – Live Event Agency- B2B internal comms specialists – London/WFH

Description

Let's be honest.

Most "senior" roles aren't senior at all.

They're just more meetings, more reporting, and less room to actually do the job.

This isn't that.

This is a Senior Client Lead role where you're trusted to own things properly.

No one hovering. No constant sign-off theatre. Just responsibility, autonomy, and accountability.

The agency is a £16m business with 38 very capable people. They care about the work, not the noise. Quality over volume. Outcomes over optics. And they're looking for someone to take a solid £1m client portfolio and grow it to £3m.

Their clients sit firmly in financial and professional services. Conferences, leadership meetings, internal comms programmes. The kind of work that actually changes behaviour, not just fills a room or a slide deck.

What you'll actually be doing:

Owning senior client relationships, start to finish

Setting the strategy, not just reacting to it

Reigniting accounts that have gone a bit quiet
